I WAS seriously afflicted with a cough for several years, and last fall had more severe cough than ever before. I have used many remedies without receiving much relief, and being recommended to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, by a friend, who, knowing me to be a poor widow, gave it to me. I tried it, and with the most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved me very much, and the second bottle has absolutely cured me. I have not had as good health for twenty years. Respectfully, Mrs. Mary A. Beard, Claremore, Ark. Sold by druggists.

A FATAL RIDE.

Willard Wildblood, a Sixth Ward Boy, Killed on the B. & O.

STEALING A RIDE ON FREIGHT

Train to Little Washington when the Accident Occurred at Taylorstown. Fell From the Car and the Train Cut His Body in Two—The Body Brought to Wheeling—A Still-Born Infant Found in the River.

Yesterday afternoon a fatal accident occurred at Taylorstown, over the state line in Pennsylvania, on the line of the Wheeling division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, in which a Wheeling boy was killed.

About noon, a party of Sixth ward boys, some six or eight in number, whose ages ranged from twelve to seventeen years, boarded a Baltimore & Ohio freight train in South Wheeling, with the intention of taking a ride to Little Washington. In the party was Willard Wildblood, about sixteen years of age, a son of Stephen Wildwood, a well known potter.

All went well with the boys until near Taylorstown. Here, while the train was going at a high speed around a curve, young Wildblood lost his balance and tumbled off between two cars. He was run over and his body cut in two. Death, of course, was instantaneous.

His body was brought back to Wheeling last night on a passenger train. The parents of the boy have the sympathy of many friends in this hour of bereavement.

Baby's Body Found.

Last night at 8 o'clock the body of a baby thought to have been born not more than twenty-four hours was found in the river at the foot of Forty-third street. Police Lieutenant Suppler was notified, and hurried to the scene. An examination tended to show that the child had probably been still-born. There is no clue as to how the child came in the river, but the natural supposition under the circumstances is that it was thrown into the water by design. The body was taken to the undertaking establishment of White, Handley & Foster.

A NARROW ESCAPE

By Martin's Ferry Young People at Terminal Junction.

Yesterday afternoon the Terminal Junction was the scene of an accident, which fortunately did not prove as serious as it might have been. As Will Hobbs, Leo Elbert, Ada Joy and Ada Dittmar were driving up the river they were stopped at the Union Bridge & Terminal tracks by a passing freight. The train was a long one and required an engine on both ends. The horse attached to the surrey stood quietly waiting for the train to pass, until the engine on the rear shot steam directly in front of the horse, which frightened the animal and, starting to run, it soon became unmanageable. The surrey was upset and almost splintered, and the children thrown to the ground. The horse was caught by a bystander, after a long chase, but not before it had sustained a badly bruised limb. All the children escaped without injury, except Will Hobbs, who received a badly bruised arm.

The employees of the Union Bridge & Terminal are very careless about the matter of letting off steam from their engines. Mr. W. H. Hobbs, father of the injured boy, and to whom the horse and surrey belonged, will enter suit against the company for damages, so he says.

B. & O. Using Crude Oil.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad is now using crude oil on its tracks, though not so extensively as lines which do not use crushed stone for ballast. There are many road crossings, stations, etc., where dust flies after the passage of fast trains, and these places are being heavily coated with oil. So far the results have been gratifying.

THE demand for a residence school in Pittsburgh, which would offer the intellectual and social advantages heretofore confined to eastern schools, will be met by a "home school" to be opened in September, under the management of the Thurston Preparatory School. For chaperone and "house-mother" a woman of broad experience and culture, Mrs. Julia De Witt Coppi Jenkins, has been engaged. The home school will be limited to twelve young ladies. In addition to pursuing courses at the Thurston school, whose high standard of scholarship is widely recognized, the resident students will enjoy the opportunities which Pittsburgh now offers as a center of art, music and learning.
